Sustainability

At Sydney Metro Airports, we're navigating the future with innovation and sustainability as our drivers. 430 Marion presents a progressive workplace that benefits from environmental initiatives to promote a healthy, inspiring and sustainable space for all.

In line with Altis Property Partners' commitment to solid Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) principles, the precinct has been designed to produce a positive impact on the community and environment it serves.

The site will benefit from the expansion of the Bankstown Airport Renewable Energy Precinct and the initial construction of a $5.9 million, 2.9MW rooftop solar program. The investment will provide cheaper energy costs and deliver environmental benefits to tenants.

Capacity exists to further expand the solar power generation in the future.
